1. Service and practical fit

Blank worksheet for private notes. Print both pages and label each option consistently. Do not add health history or other sensitive personal information.

Questions to compare	Option A: _____	Option B: _____
Proposed service & scope What is included? What is not? Is this preparation, integration, or another service?
Qualifications & checks Record claimed training/license, issuing body, and a source to check independently. A claim is not verification.
Format & location eligibility In person or online? Where may this person provide this exact service? Confirm your location is eligible.
Fees & duration Session length, total price/currency, required extras, and any ongoing commitment.
Cancellation & refunds Notice required, cancellation charges, deposits, and refund terms.

This is a comparison aid, not a safety score, provider verification or clinical endorsement. A directory listing does not establish qualifications or legality. Confirm the proposed service is permitted where it takes place.

2. Consent, privacy and next steps

Blank worksheet for private notes. Print both pages and label each option consistently. Do not add health history or other sensitive personal information.

Questions to compare	Option A: _____	Option B: _____
Consent & boundaries How can you decline, pause or stop? Ask about touch, confidentiality limits and professional boundaries.
Privacy & contact What information is requested, who can see it, how is it kept, and which contact method can you use?
Scope limits & referrals What is outside their role? How do they handle concerns or refer someone to appropriate support?
Unanswered questions What needs clarification in writing? Note any pressure, vague claims or terms you do not understand.
Your next step Compare answers, verify claims, ask more, or decide not to proceed. There is no obligation to choose.
